ACADEMIC COSTUME AND REGALIA

Academic gowns represent a tradition which comes down from the universities of the Middle Ages. At that time they were a common form of dress for faculty and students.

The usual color for academic gowns is black, but the official color of the Community College of Aurora gown is maroon. The bachelor's gown has long sleeves; the master's gown has slits in the elbows of the sleeves; and the doctoral gown is trimmed with velvet bands. Caps, originally round, later became square mortarboards.

The hoods once served as cowls which could be slipped over the head for warmth. Hoods are lined with colors of the college or university from which the wearer received their degree. The trimming or color of the hood designates the degree.

Individuals noted with a Spring 2025 or Summer 2024 date are still subject to full, successful completion of credential requirements prior to degree confirmation.

PRESIDENTIAL MEDALLION

The presidential medallion is worn by the President of the College at all Commencement Ceremonies as a sign of honor and regard for the institution's academic leadership. The medallion is imprinted with the official seal of Community College of Aurora, and is inscribed with the former presidents of the institution and their tenures.

MACE

Historically, the mace is a symbol of authority dating from medieval times when knights carried them during processions leading the way before their kings or other dignitaries. As the tradition grew, the mace became a ceremonial symbol of peaceful leadership, and maces were embellished with jewels and metals. Today, a college mace represents a symbol of authority and the mace bearer leads the ceremonial procession and is carried before the president or chancellor and platform-party dignitaries during commencement and inaugural and other academic ceremonial processions.

PROVOST'S CHAIN OF OFFICE

The Vice President of Academic Success (VPAS) is the senior academic officer, with duties ranging from ensuring quality instruction, faculty recruitment and support. Like the president, the VPAS wears a symbolic necklace called the Provost's Chain of Office. The chain of office features small nameplates honoring the names of CCA's former senior academic officers. The medallion itself is the seal of the Community College of Aurora.

CCA'S EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP

The Community College of Aurora is led by an extraordinary group of academic leaders and administrators, who represent a wide range of disciplines and specialties across campus.
